

THE 2009 IAA FALL PICNIC & THE MEMBER SURVEY

The IAA Fall Picnic conducted at the Kiwanis Park in Tempe on Saturday, August 15, 2009 was a great success. More than 100 people attended. The weather was cooperating, not a typical Arizona summer, thanks to the intense thunderstorm in Tempe that occurred two days prior to the event bringing the temperature down to a bearable level.

During the picnic, we did a random survey by distributing questionnaires to some selected respondents. A summary of their responses is provided below. IAA would like to thank the participants and will use the survey findings for the betterment of our next activities.

About IAA

Question	Answer: "Yes"	Answer: "No"	No. of Responses
1. Do you want to keep IAA?	32	0	32
2. Do you think IAA is valuable?	31	0	31
3. Do you visit IAA website?	18	12	30
4. Do you intend to get involved with IAA?	18	10	28

About the 2009 Fall Picnic

Question	Satisfied	Neutral	Not Satisfied	No. of Responses
1. Invitation on time?	23	9	0	32
2. Opening ceremony?	19	13	0	32
3. Communication?	20	12	0	32
4. Children game?	18	11	1	30
5. Picnic organization?	20	11	0	31
6. Food?	26	6	0	32

Open-ended questions

Responses to the open-ended question about things they enjoy most are Indonesian food, meet with people, and the event itself as a whole: socializing, food, etc. Responses to the open-ended question about things they are not satisfied are mostly none (we are satisfied). However, there are little complaints such as: the heat, the event starts too early, I know too little people, no music and cultural show, and I need to interact more.

The atmosphere of the picnic is captured in these photographs, taken by Bambang and Stanley

